

LI09 Stannage Towns

Kybi's Language & Industry

Once tin had been mined but before it could be exported, it needed to be weighed, taxed and stamped.

This was done at a Stannage Town. At various times these were Penzance, Truro, Helston, St Austell, Bodmin, Liskeard and Lostwithiel.

The rights to be a Stannage Town were granted in 1201. The trade brought prosperity to the area when it was granted.
